Trends for 2006

2006? Already? Just seems like yesterday we were starting 2005.....

For 2006, we are seeing a transition from more monochromatic colour schemes, to stronger naturals (charcoals and chocolates) accented in bright jewel tones (pinks, purples, greens, etc.). There is a shift towards the blue based colours, often matched with yellow-greens or oranges. Reds are still popular, but are more pink and orange based as opposed to the bluer reds. In accessories we are seeing more of the luxurious, textured fabrics, shiny metals and heavy woods.

For their 2006 trends, Benjamin Moore has created groups of 4 colours for each of their styles. These are placed together to be used not simply as paint for the walls, but to be used in furnishings, accessories, drapery, etc. They recommend 1-2 colours for the walls and then to use the other 2-3 colours elsewhere in the room.
